The LGBT Interest Group of SCRA
welcomes you to a Town Hall Meeting:

How Can Community Psychology Best Assist LGBT Community Organizations?

Friday June 8th, 2001 2:15-3:30 pm

This meeting will bring together local LGBT community organizations and community psychology students and professionals to discuss working together and ways that community psychology can be useful to LGBT communities in particular. We will first ask the community representatives to introduce themselves, their organizations, and their current needs that fit with community psychology. Then discussion among everyone present will focus on overarching themes among these needs, the potentials and challenges of working together, and related topics.

Because we have a short meeting and many diverse people and interests, our discussion will not be able to focus in-depth on one organization or collaboration possibility. Therefore, at the end of this meeting, we invite everyone interested to move with us to a nearby restaurant where we can continue with more specific and individual conversations.
